Founded in 2007, Chaseholm Farm Creamery remains one of only a handful of farmstead creameries in New York State. The family-run creamery's small-batch, artisan cow's milk cheeses are a reflection of the care they put into their land and animals throughout the cheesemaking process.

Kaltbach cheeses are carefully crafted in the deep, cool Kaltbach Cave located in the Alpine Valley of Switzerland. This 22-million-year-old natural sandstone labyrinth has a natural brook running through it, which allows for constant humidity in the mineral-rich cave air. This natural process produces the distinctive, unforgettable flavor of Kaltbach cheese.
